Re: SUBSCRIBER ACKNOWLEDGEMENT REPORT – November 7, 2007
For Colo Telephone Company
WC Docket Nos. 05-196 and 04-36

Dear Ms. Dortch:

Colo Telephone Company, is an independent rural local exchange carrier operating in the state of Iowa that has recently started to offer interconnected voice over Internet Protocol (“VoIP”) services to end-users. Colo Telephone Company did not begin to offer VoIP services until after the effective date of the Commission’s VoIP E911 Order,¹ which established the requirement that VoIP providers submit reports to the FCC detailing their compliance with the FCC’s VoIP rules. Since it began offering interconnected VoIP services, Colo Telephone Company has required new VoIP subscribers to sign acknowledgment that they have received notice of the limitations of VoIP-based 911 services.

Pursuant to the Enforcement Bureau’s Public [September 27, 2005] Public Notice,² [ITC] submits the following information:

Details of the efforts the provider has undertaken to obtain acknowledgment from subscribers that they have received notice of the limitations of the 911 service.
